Efficacy of knowledge, attitude and practices of households on municipal solid waste management in Karachi

Waste disposal and treatment is a linked exercise, from garbage generation to disposal, and must be addressed in a systematic way. An increasing trend of urbanization, infrastructural development and life style changes has changed the rate of generation and the need for effective waste management. Geographic location of Karachi has a direct impact on solid waste management.